SDSU | Center for Excellence in Aging & Longevity

Certificate in Aging Leadership

JOIN US!

Our 4-course, online Global Campus Certificate in Aging Leadership is anchored in the core competencies needed to lead in today's aging and longevity landscape:

- Age-Friendly Systems Thinking
- Equity & Inclusion in Aging
- Collaborative Leadership
- Innovation in Practice
- Community & Organizational Impact
- Effective Communication & Advocacy

Today's aging-services professionals are navigating rapid change and increasing demands for visionary leadership.

The Global Campus Certificate in Aging Leadership, created in collaboration with SDSU's CEAL, helps leaders build stronger skills, reflect on their practice, and drive meaningful change. Ideal for those looking to elevate their role and influence in the field.

MEET THE FACULTY

Scott Tarde, L.N.H.A.
Chief Executive Officer
George G. Glenner Alzheimer's Family Centers, Inc.

Jennifer Sinnot, MSW
VP Health & Social Services
Serving Seniors

Joe Garbanzos, MBA
CA State President
AARP

Michelle Matter, EdD
Chief Operating Officer
SDSU CEAL

Steve Hornberger, MSW
Director
SDSU CEAL

KEY COMPONENETS

- Courses led by innovators and leaders in the aging field
- Mentorship and guided professional development
- Applied projects connected to real-world aging challenges
- Networking with peers across sectors
- Opportunities to build leadership confidence and career readiness
- A university-issued certificate to elevate your professional profile

PROGRAM STRUCTURE

- Program Modality: Online
- Course Duration: 4 eight-week courses, plus ongoing mentorship discussions.
- Cost: $1,500/class or $6,000 for the 4-class certificate

Are you ready to step up to the challenge and advance your career?

Apply now!
Classes begin Fall 2026

SDSU | Global Campus